CLASS HISTORY

Four years ago on a bright September morning we entered the doors of Lincoln as a group of hopeful, but doubtful looking students and became known as the "Class of '55." Those elected to lead us through our bewildering Freshman year were: Shirley Sampier, Ron Sparrow, Jeanette Burgar, and June Lindemann. During the year we had a Spring Dance, a magazine drive and other activities to help our class treasury grow.

The next year we came back with Miss Cooke and Miss Kilpatrick for sponsors. With our officers, Dick Draper, Virginia Stewart, Nancy Henneman, and Dale Essenburg, we participated in another magazine drive and sponsored a Valentine Dance. After being in high school for two years we really began to enjoy it. However, the best was yet to come.

Our Junior year got off to a fine start when we elected Ron Redick, Alvin Hess, Virginia Stewart, and Shirley Sampier for our officers and had Mr. Ligtvoet and Miss Brown for advisors. This promised to be a big year as we started out with a successful Halloween Dance and then sponsored dancing classes in the evening. We went from dancing to dramatics when we gave four one-act plays. We started our senior trip club, the WNYTC (the Washington-New York Trip Club.) The big event of the year was the banquet and prom, held in honor of the seniors. "The Deep Sea" was the theme of this annual event.

In the fall of '54 we entered Lincoln no longer a dubious looking group. Why? We were SENIORS and this was the year we had been waiting for. Determined to make it a good one, we started right out handling the concession stands at the football games. As soon as football was over there were other activities to keep us busy—the Senior play, for instance. Entitled "Drums of Death," it took a great deal of time and hard work to get it into shape. The play was barely over when another event popped into view—the tradition that seniors sponsor the Christmas Dance. Choosing "Winter Wonderland" for a theme, we got busy and held a pretty successful dance. Between working to get a nice annual out and working in the WNYTC, among all the other activities, we realized why they say seniors are such busy people. However, we weren't through yet. Still to come was a senior skip day; a wonderful week's trip to Washington and New York; and finally two big days in our lives—Baccalaureate and Commencement. Those leading us down the aisle on June 5 and June 9 will be Ron Redick, Larry Beckett, Virginia Stewart and Joanne Towler who, with the advisors, Miss Beal, Mr. Burras, and Mr. Hoover, did a great job of taking us through our final year.

CLASS WILL

We, the graduating class of 1955, do hereby make known our last will and testament.

To the class of 1956, we will the honor of being called Seniors; the right to run the school; and the privilege of residing in Senior Locker Lane.

We, individually, will the following:

Shirley Ward, my squatters rights to the mirror in the girls' rest room, to Joyce Hubbell;

Jerry Williams, my ability to get caught skipping, to Tom Hudge and Chuck Hess;

Nancy Butcher, my ability to go steady with more than one boy at the same time to Marlene Baisch;

Marilyn Minick, my dancing ability, to Warren Anderson and George Helzerman;

Lois Ramberg, my first chair in band and orchestra, to Bill Drummond;

Harry Wright, my bashfulness with girls, to Harry Holmes and Gerald Risch;

Shirley Schmidt, my natural blonde hair, to Kenneth Berean;

Tom Nowak and Don Coleman, our safe driving records, to Danny Trochet and Louis Melnick;
