THE 1977 LIBERATOR

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL
YPSILANTI, MICHIGAN

IN MEMORIAM

This is written in memory of a year which we devoutly hope will rest in perpetual peace. Despite the fact that it was a year in which all our athletic teams were undefeated, untied and unscored upon, it is not a year we wish to repeat very soon, bereft as it was of all extra-curricular activities as a result of millages we could not seem to get passed, even though the prospective members of our athletic teams gave it a super effort.

Nevertheless, the Class of 1977 resolutely refused to be intimidated by the absence of the normal activities and worked diligently to become an integrated, homogeneous group working to salvage what victories they could from a defeat not of their own making.

They worked with the junior class to arrange a Prom which was enjoyed by all in a way not often seen in recent years when Proms could be taken for granted. They participated in large numbers in the trip to Toronto over Memorial Day weekend. They took an unusually large part in planning, designing, and carrying out the Commencement program and even arranged a cool, pleasant evening with temperatures in the 60's which allowed people to stand around and say long good-byes to those who had helped make memorable a year which appeared at first sight to be a total disaster.

YEARBOOK STAFF

Shown descending the ladder of yearbook success it is farah to say are Libbey's Angels without whom none of this could have taken place.

COM- MENCE- MENT

Class president Debbie Uhl fondles the plaque given by the class for her inspiring leadership.

That's all there is, there ain't no more for the class of 1977 as it marches off into history to seek adult roles and responsibilities. Certainly it has proved as a class its ability to stand up to adversity and to smile in the face of misfortune. May there be happier years in store for them.

Mr. Harrell and the Lincoln Chorus shown above had few opportunities to show their stuff but did get in a few licks at Baccalaureate and Commencement.

Mr. Bowman is shown with the Lincoln Symphonic Band, formerly the Marching Band. Above are shots of the Band's Commencement participation. Also shown are unemployed majorettes.
