

LIBERATOR 78

THE 1978 LIBERATOR

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL
YPSILANTI, MICHIGAN

DEDICATION

is what this library lady,
a/k/a media center person,
is all about:
dedication to her profession
to the youth she served
and
unfortunately for her old friends
to a kind of self-effacement
and
refusal to pursue self-aggrandizement which caused her
to silently fold her tent
and quietly steal away
after nearly all opportunities
for public thanks
had passed.
We have had a "delightful" nine years with Jane.
We are sorry
it could not be more.
We are glad
it was not less.

YEARBOOK STAFF

Shown here are Advisor Fred Libbey with Editor Lynn Nauer and Sherry Soja, reminiscing over the miniscule triumphs of the past. Also aiding in the endeavor, but not shown were Connie Slagle, Carol McMahon, and Jeff Kremkow.

Shown here in what may not be her favorite but what could be her customary posture is Editor Lynn Nauer for whom we offer thanks for four years of great effort and for assuming responsibilities no one else would come forward to take.

President Lutz, in company with Principal James Martin, Reverend Dale Miller and Superintendent Jenvey, awaits the beginning of the festivities. Below, he presents Laurie Murnighan with something she always wanted.

Shown at left is some fierce action from the usually hotly-contested Senior vs. Faculty Basketball game undertaken in the doldrums of mid-winter for the benefit of the March of Dimes or other worthy charities. As a matter of condescending to their elders the seniors normally allow the aging faculty the benison of victory to assuage the muscle spasms they ultimately all feel. That tradition was upheld in this contest as well.

PLAY AND MUSICAL

The Dramatic Arts Department during the course of this year prepared and staged two excellent productions. The fall play was "Flowers for Algernon," starring Jim Burrell in the role of Charlie. The more ambitious spring production, put on in cooperation with the Chorus and Band Directors was "Bye, Bye, Birdie," a musical based on the life of the late Elvis Presley, whose recent demise invoked a swell of interest in this vehicle, first staged in 1962. It was good, indeed, to have the skills and talents of our Thespian friends before us once more.

HOMECOMING 1977

Having missed out on an opportunity to place first in the non-existent homecoming parade of that dismal year when absolutely nothing happened, the class of 1978 was more than gratified to discover that their float-building skills had not completely atrophied. As you can see from the picture, they were flying high, literally and figuratively, even though we can not say that about the outcome of the homecoming game against Saline.

The Class of 1980 steamrolled its way into second place in the competition with, would you believe it, a steamroller which rolled and steamed. An impressive display which bodes well for upcoming homecoming parade competitions.

The Class of 1979 made what proved to be an ineffective attempt to swat the Hornets and their competition but had to settle for third place. Maybe next year?

Last, and, in this cast at least, least is the effort of the Class of 1981 to escape the cage envisioned for them by upperclassmen(persons?), placing therein a Hornet. They didn't, but the Hornet did. Well, they have three more opportunities.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

On the twelfth of May, 1978, the Juniors and their guests gathered at McKenny Hall on the campus at Eastern Michigan. As they say, a good time was had by all.

ARTS

The Festival of the Arts was a coordinated activity of all the fine arts departments presented May 23, 24, 25.

It consisted of displays, demonstrations, and performances in Music, Art, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Photography, and Drama.

It was an impressive display of the wide range of skill and talent which is available to us and which we do not often have such an opportunity to see.
