LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL

There are hundreds of high schools in the state of Michigan. Maybe a lot of other people haven't heard of Lincoln. Maybe they don't know where Lincoln is or what we're all about.

But, Lincoln isn't just a place; it's a home, a security blanket that many graduates are afraid of leaving behind.

High school is a time of growth, both physical and emotional. Lincoln gives us the tools by which to grow, learn and become who we were meant to be.

What sets Lincoln aside from other schools? There are the obvious: the location, the staff, the classes and activities and, of course, the corn. But the biggest difference that separates Lincoln from other schools is the same thing that makes us similar to other schools---US!

Once upon a time in the magical kingdom of Willis there was an enchanted castle. Within the castle there lived a large group of royal persons. In the kingdom lived the underclassmen who worked to reach royal acceptance just like the lords and ladies.

King McDougall and his noble people kept the kingdom together and running well. They ruled over all of the other people in the land. They were the ones who kept the subjects of the land under control by making laws and enforcing them. Under the King were other royal persons such as princes, princesses, dukes, duchesses, lords and ladies.

The princes and princesses carried out the King's wishes. They lived in several areas of the kingdom in order to govern the castle. These loyal subjects normally ran the castle with their daily duties and other activities.

The dukes and duchesses carried out Prince Vrettas' wishes by teaching the lords, ladies and underclassmen the necessary things to adapt to life in the kingdom.

The dukes and duchesses strived to teach important things such as knowledge, morals and wisdom. They did this through teaching, which they performed with much joy. When the lords, ladies and underclassmen failed to obey the laws of the castle, they were reprimanded with the possibility of having to go to the dungeon for a period of time (DDD). These subjects don't wish to return to the dungeon so they try to behave from that point on.

The lords and ladies of the kingdom always trying to better themselves, they are on their way to a bigger and better place in the kingdom. The lords and ladies do not want to stay behind in the kingdom, but they are scared to move on and leave the world that they are familiar with.

The underclassmen are the spine of the kingdom. They supported the royalty through hard work and cooperation. Without the underclassmen, the royal entourage would cease to exist. They made the kingdom more lively, creating a daily life filled with surprises.

The people of the kingdom all live together in hopes of living happily ever after.

Student Life

The people within the kingdom have many interesting activities to occupy their free time.

As many can see these activities range from a fierce fight to win a friendly game, to leisure activities of drawing and reading.

Many cheer on others and bask in the fun and exhilaration to become closer to one another.

All these people whether big or small, are very special. They are each unique in their own way and for that we appreciate them greatly.

Spring Break, the lords and ladies break free from the Kingdom

This is because every hour of the day is spent on the beach, either laying out in the sun getting fried or playing volleyball with your new friends. When the sun goes down the fun is only beginning. It's time to go to the room to shower and apply lots of aloe; then out to have some fun.

The night life on Spring Break is incredible. There are so many things to do that it's impossible to do all of them in just one night. Dancing, driving down the strip or just staying in the hotel, the kids on Spring Break are sure to have an exciting vacation!

During the month of April the upperclassmen of Lincoln start to pack up to leave for one of the best vacations of their lives, Spring Break. It doesn't matter where they plan on going as long as it will be sunny and lots of kids are around to meet. Spring Break is a time to get away from the pressures at school, at home or at the students' part-time jobs.

Janice Murningham, Kerin Goedert, Sarah Riddle and Tracy Witten can teach us a few things about partying after returning from Daytona!

Jennifer Mason picked up a hot babe to party with over her Spring Break at Disney World in Florida!

"I went to Myrtle Beach for Spring Break, I think, and I still have a splitting headache," said Mike Andrews, a Senior who knows how to party!

Who is that making fools of themselves in Daytona Beach during Spring Break 1993?

KINNEY

THE GREAT AMERICAN SHOE STORE

Nick Burirovich loves feet as you can tell while he works at Kinney Shoe Store in the mall.

Brad Sancho shows off a new pair of jeans at his place of employment, County Seat.

At Lincoln High many students take time out of their lives to work. The reasons for working are various and not all students that work have to. Most of the students love their jobs and don't mind working. The students' jobs vary from fast food to working in a department store. Some jobs have a very high turnover rate and the students do not stay with that job for long. Minimum wage is $4.25 and of all of the students interviewed most of them make over that. In some of the jobs that the students have they say that they can wear casual clothing and only a few have to wear uniforms. But of course the students working at the fastfood restaurants that we all visit occasionally have to wear a uniform. Some students can not keep a job and have had up to six different jobs during high school. That's o.k. as long as they're having fun. When we think of having a job not many think of it as fun and games. But, when interviewed some students showed that making a little extra money can add to a certain spark into a splitter's life.

"I don't like working for Lincoln all that much; I like lifeguarding for Rollinghills Park better. I like it because you're out in the sun. I had to pull a little kid out of the water who couldn't swim at the bottom of the slide. Once we all climbed up the stack of innertubes and dove off. That almost got us fired but it was loads of fun," said Nathan Leonard.

Nicole Thomas, Kerin Goedert and Stephanie Kayfesh at Brookhaven Manor, a retirement community working hard?

Janice Murningham likes her job at Thomas and Thomas because she can go in anytime that she wants and she can wear almost anything that she wants. She works on a computer and files things. The disc jockys that she works for go to weddings and dances.

Brian Hinderer is a lifeguard in Saline and he meets alot of people.

Kandy Styrk does office work at an automotive firm. She likes it because it pays good and she gets anytime off that she needs.

Scott Walter said that at Nellis once he dropped a 40-bottle and felt like crying; he was sure to clean it up.

Leading the Way

The Dukes and Duchesses work their magic to prepare students for their tough battles ahead. Whether it's a problem on your homework or with your locker, the staff is here to support the students through their studies.

We've had a few changes to the administration this year. Mr. Thomas L. McDougall entered the Lincoln community as our new Superintendent. Dr. William H. Harrison joined him as the Assistant Superintendent.

Dr. Arthur T. Vrettas as Principal and Mr. Raymond F. Jones as Assistant Principal continue their reign here at the high school.

Duke Moran peeks out the door to see who's supposed to be in class.

While scanning the hallway, Prince Vrettas catches us roaming the halls.

Duke Sarkett shows his great enthusiasm in grading papers. Doesn't it look fun?

Duke Manning helps to put the finishing touches on the new school crest.

Duke Andon looks like he's having fun teaching aerobics.

Duchess Anuskiewicz didn't think anyone was looking. She thought wrong.

You can always find teachers hard at work in the teacher's workroom. Right, Duke Mulka?

We surprised Duchess Briggman during her Prep hour. Hey There!

Now... The rulers of the castle, the Lords and Ladies

The last year of high school, "Senior Year", the year that all students wait for and expect to be the best. The class of 1993 is making this their best year. Partying, class participation, and school spirit are just some of the ways they show it.

The first day of school this year was a lot different than our freshman year. That first day a million different feelings were going through most people's minds.

"I was scared on the first day, I thought I was going to get a swirly," said Scott Walter.

This year the seniors are ready to rule the school and kind of excited about the beginning of their last year.

"I could not sleep the night before because of all the thoughts running through my head and I was very excited," said Kerin Goedert.

"To me it seemed like the same old thing, same school, same teachers, but we were Seniors," exclaimed Michelle Stokes.

Homecoming was the seniors' time to shine! With the winning of their hallway which had a theme of the 60's, and then the winning of the total spirit week competition, they had reason to be excited.

Next come Cominghome, Prom, and finally, Graduation, the happiest and saddest day of our high school years.

Good Luck to the Class of 1993. The best is yet to come!

After finding out that the seniors won their hallway the cheerleaders and some fans show how excited they are and that they are glad all the hard work paid off! Great job SENIORS!!

For students their second home is their lockers. A locker can tell a lot about a person and their room at home. Just like a room, a locker can be decorated. Some of the items that students decorate with are wall paper, magazine clippings, or photographs. Looking in the locker you can see what a person's favorite television show is, who their favorite actor or actress is, or what kind of music is liked. After students are done decorating their locker other always like to stop and admire the new pictures or other decorations so they can see how they can decorate theirs.

"I have my locker decorated with a lot of Luke Perry and Beverly Hills 90210. I love looking at him every time I have to go in my locker," said Nicole Thomas.

Most lockers contain everything a student needs for the school day and some things not needed. There can be anything from books to coats to food in a locker.

"I share my locker with Kim Kibilko, the top of the locker is real neat and the the bottom is messy. Lockers tell a lot about someone's personality," said Janice Murnighan.

The "common people" of the Junior Class are far from average. They excel in all they do and overcome any obstacle that blocks their path. The class of '94 stays together through thick and thin. Our teamwork has put us above all other classes. The Class of '94 is a class full of pride and prestige, and will be long remembered in this part of the kingdom. We can always be proud when we look back on our Junior year, and remember that we were far more than just "common people!"

Lords & Ladies of Parliament

The 1992-1993 school year was a busy one for Student Council. In addition to their usual activities - Homecoming and Cominghome and other various student oriented activities - they also did some community service.

During the fall the group had a project called "Adopt -A-Family," through which they helped out an underprivileged family and provided with a Thanksgiving dinner. They also had a Can Drive. Junior, and Student Council Vice President , Adrienne Crawford commented, "This year has been a wonderful new experience for me, because we have programs whose main objective is to help people have an easier time, such as the 'Adopt-A-Family' program."

YE OLDE ARTISTS' GUILD SHOWS ITS WARES

1993 was the fifth year of the Lincoln's Art Show. The show was held May 18-20.

The pieces that were submitted were from Lincoln School District students ranging in age from first through twelfth grades.

Because of the tremendous response of talented students wishing to display their work, the student and staff judges had their hands full making decisions on awards.

WIZARDS AND SORCERERS

by: Janice Murnighan

Many villagers in the kingdom have different tasks they must perform. These people work very hard to show what they can do; it can be working on Technology, Chemistry, or just practicing to be a parent. Once they have got the feel of what the world will be like after they go out of the villiage, some villiagers will pursue what they have learned. Maybe they will even be great leaders, whether in or out of the kingdom.

These flour babies are really dressed up and cared for as actual children. Up above is a Bart baby and below that is a puffalump.

Chemistry students show how certain chemicals can do different things. They performed many experiments at their chemistry show.

Teacher of the year Mr. Nuzzo stands next to Sergant Sheppard, a recruiter for the Armed Services, listening to the speaker.

When the Technology van from the Army was here, Private Armatoski explained why you need a good education to get far in life as students listen.

Here in Mr. Hubbard's art class Ryan Blakemore takes a moment from looking at the pottery to pose for a picture.

Kim Kibiko and Ken Mango are partners in their fifth hour dance class. Looks like they're having fun dancing to the music.

Here sit sixth graders watching a chemistry show that was put on by Mrs. Maxwell's chemistry classes.

MUSICAL MASTERS

What is a choir? Is it a group of people who sing together? Yes, but that is not all. A Choir is also a group of friends. A family. Working hard and putting forth all their effort to show others and practicing what they've got. They have great strength and dedication for the love of music. Becoming closer and closer day by day. With all the love and strength within their hearts they make a Choir a wonderful joy!

Allison Pierce, Kay Comstock, and Angie Searl practice hard to ready themselves for their concert.

With a "Ho! Ho! Ho!" and a "Merry Christmas", Shannon Moorer entertains the young and old with the traditional "Santa Clause Is Coming to Town".

With great spirit and enthusiasm Shelia Witten, Kelly Woodard, and Gina Babbitt dance to a Christmas jig to entertain all and glorify the Holiday spirit.

Mr. McGehee greets the audience with a warm welcoming smile to the Winter Concert as all wait in anticipation for the singing to begin.

In Mid-May the Select Choir took a four-day trip to Toronto, Canada for a music competition taking third place in their division. While in Toronto the Choir took side trips to Niagra Falls, Phantom Of The Opera, The CN Tower, and Canada's Wonderland. When asked about their trip all seemed to reply with encouraging and wonderful remarks. When the Choir next goes on a trip to a music festival we wish them the best of luck for that is what they deserve. We are grateful for their dedication and strength for making our Choir what it is. Thanks a lot!!!!

Clubs and organizations have grown over the years at Lincoln. The clubs in this school do everything from helping the public to entertaining it. This part of the school sometimes isn't given as much attention as athletics, yet, that doesn't make them less important or requiring less work and dedication. This year they have accomplished a lot. The United Student Organization had a very impressive assembly for Black History Month. The Select Choir went to Toronto for the North American Music Festival for the North and these are just two examples. For someone who is not athletically inclined, clubs and organizations provide an outlet for other types of creativity and talent. With all Lincoln has to offer, there is something for everyone.

Ye Olde Newspaper and Yearbook Keep Lincoln Castle Informed

Proclaimed: credit shall be given where credit is due. This credit goes to the staff of the Splitter Express and the 92-93 Yearbook staff. From the very first day of school all through the last day of the year, these people are getting information to you about everything that goes on in and around Lincoln High School. Even after the school day ends, they're still here collecting information, taking pictures, and putting together results from polls you've taken. It's like a job for them. Not a job where you hate your boss, the hours are long, and there's never enough to do. It's a job that is fun, your boss helps you out, you work at your own pace, and there's always something to do. So take a look at what the students of LHS have done for you.

LET THE GAMES BEGIN

vs.

The Soldiers

Several times a week the knights must go to battle. They fight many different types of soldiers. Some battles are easy to win, but others are a hard struggle. The knights must prepare for their battle. Before there is even a battle these knights train very hard every day to win. Even before they go out to fight they practice, practice, practice.

The knights must also have the mental ability as well as the physical training to fight. Whether it's a dual or a team of knights together they must work hard to please the Kingdom. When the knights are on their battlefields they use intelligent plans to show their strengths. Two plans of action the knights use are to respect each other and listen to the leader. They also need to know their opponents' strengths and weaknesses to overcome the arch enemies. Once the knights have the physical and mental ability, they are sure to fight well. After all, if the knights perform to their best as one, they are sure to get a victory against their rivals.

Freshman Tony Mingus drops back for a pass

Jeff Paterno 93 who had a 110 tackles and Dan West 94 who had 74 tackles this season converge on a tackle together.

This year our knights seemed to have had the plague. The team went 0-9, but it wasn't for lack of hard work. During the summer, they worked seven to nine hours a day running drills to get in shape. Eric Johnson said, "I improved a lot more this year...next year I WILL BE UNSTOPPABLE!"

The defensive coach moved up to head coach along with other leadership changes this year. Bobby Francis commented, "We had our problems, but I hope we've worked through them and can work as a whole team."

The main problem is other schools have a good early program in elementary and junior high to get kids started in football. Lincoln lacks that.

Jeff Paterno said, "It's a shame we can't compete with other schools because we haven't enough athletes coming out for football and we have a limited weight-lifting program."

"This year the team had its bright spots, but couldn't stop a team on third and long or come up with big plays. "I had six 15-yard penalties which all came from being frustrated because we couldn't compete with other schools in the league," said Therron Brown.

Lincoln is now looking towards the future with the up and coming junior varsity players and has hopes of improving the program.

SQUIRES GAIN & GROW

This year our young J.V. started out strong; they killed the first few teams that they played. Then they lost a few of their starting players to Varsity. Even though their record doesn't show it, they stuck together and finished the season as a team showing the school what may be in Lincoln's future.

Ready to Cheer their Knights onto Victory

Common person Naomi Porter is cheering on her knights to a victory at the Homecoming battle.

A Junior Varsity cheerleading squad always has to start from the beginning. High school is a big change and there are new things to learn. New and old cheerleaders work together to form the team. Practices are held during the summer to condition and to work towards the new season. Chants are taught and cheers are made up.

Then the school year starts, and the games begin. The football team started off the season well, winning the first two games. A winning team always gives the cheerleaders reason to cheer their best. Then as the season went on the football team did not improve but the cheerleading team did.

In practice the team made up new cheers and improved on the ones already known, with this extra work the cheerleaders are sure to grab some attention.

The J.V. squad finished off the season well, while some cheered for basketball season and others moved on to another sport.

LADIES IN WAITING FOR A WIN 1 9 9 2

As you can see Jennifer Farley and Nicole Thomas are in sync just as the rest of the team was all year.

by: Janice Murnighan

The 1992 Football Cheerleaders started their season in the beginning of June. Some went to camp that was held here at Lincoln, while others went to EMU. Even though they didn't compete they still are one of the best teams in the area. They have worked very hard for many years to get where they are today.

There were eight seniors on the team this year and most of them have been cheering together since junior high. That shows great dedication to the Lincoln cheer team. Senior Kerin Goedert says, "I'll miss the seniors being together because we've all been together so long".

"When we look back at all the time we spent together then, and now, a lot of things have changed. But we can always say we were a team and friends", remarked Janice Murnighan.

Here the cheerleaders show us their spirit with a mount at the end of the cheer. These ladies have to be very careful while mounting. GO SPLITTERS!

As always the two cheer teams cheer together at the homecoming game. Here they stop to take a picture with the newly crowned Queen Lakeya Richardson. Everyone is excited for the new queen, the cheer teams all congratulated her on her new reign.

KNIGHTS BATTLE FOR THE WIN

The Lincoln Varsity Basketball Team has done another outstanding job this year. No matter what obstacles stood in their way they managed to overcome them. What is it that keeps this team motivated? Senior Melvin Wiley says, "a tough challenge is what keeps us motivated, because it makes us feel as though we have to play even harder." Even though the team is playing well together, Melvin also feels that they all need to be a little closer to each other as a team.

Scott Chatfield, Lincoln's leading scorer has especially contributed to the ball club this year averaging 22 points a game.

This year's J.V. Hoopsters had a successful season. They worked very hard and cooperated to reach their goals. Teamwork was one of their many assets. They're hoping to improve their record and S.E.C placing next season.

Take To The Court

This year's Girls' J.V. Basketball team started the season with a 46-game losing streak. But, the seventh game of the season was what they had been so fiercely practicing for in anticipation of winning. They won their first game in over two years, beating opponent AA Greenhills!

This is just what the team needed. They proceeded to win against the Milan Big Reds.

Varsity player, Adrienne Crawford commented, "Our team played really well this season. Two exceptional first-year players were Andrea Kuzich and Justina Phillips."

Crawford also added, "This group is the foundation for a new winning team."

Freshman Caroline Jacobs said, "Once we started to work as a team, our game really improved."

Sophomore Andrea Kuzich agreed. "This year we spent a lot of time learning the basics. Hopefully, we can spend more time improving next year, and win a few more games."

Foot Soldiers of 1992-93

The 1992 Cross-Country team had a successful season, promising next year to be even better. With five underclassmen in the top seven, next year's team is looking to be among the top teams in the S.E.C. . With two freshman in the top seven and two juniors that qualified for the state meet, this definitely shows how strong they will be in the future. Many of the runners reached there personal best this year showing DEDICATION and DETERMINATION on the Cross-Country course, and with school. More than half of the team received a scholar athlete award, showing that these men can handle a tough sport but can also make the grades.

Team unity was important for having a successful season and earning a No. 7 ranking in the state.

Juniors Eric Carlson and Eric Stoll promise a bright season for the Railsplitters next year.

Senior Jason Williams runs for a season best time against S.E.C rival Chelsea.

Lincoln and Chelsea runners are off and running at the sound of the gun !

Jennifer Farley, Melissa Kulback, Shannon Kayfesh, Tina Adkins, and Christie Carter show that their many years of hard work has paid off by how well they cheer.

After doing a floor cheer Tina Adkins shows her stuff with a well done herkie.

To end the Hello Cheer perfectly bases Melissa and Shannon hold Kerin Goedert in an elevator with much ease.

Cheering crowds, smooth moves, and exciting games is what basketball season is all about and the Lincoln Varsity Cheerleaders helped to motivate the players and fans.

This year's Varsity Basketball Cheerleaders started off their season in November with try-outs; 10 girls were picked to fill the squad.

The cheer squad did work hard this season. The first couple weeks they worked on chants, new cheers and the Hello Cheer. After perfecting those cheers they work on making up others with everybody putting their own touch into it.

Then, midway through the season the team attended a day camp at Ypsilanti High School given by Universal Cheerleading Association (UCA). There they learned new chants, a cheer and also how to stunt better.

Next, the team made up a dance to perform at Cominghome Pep Assembly. It was to a mix of different music that the crowd and junior varsity squad really got into.

Finally, the end of the season came. The last game was very hard for the senior cheerleaders. They realized that this would be the last time that they would cheer for the basketball team at home. Some of them cried, others were relieved that the season was over and even some of the younger cheerleaders were upset and realized that the team would not be the same.

Dance, Cheer, Stunts:

JR. SPIRIT MAIDENS

This year's "Junior Spirit Maidens" worked hard on making basketball season one of their best yet. They worked together as a team and got a lot accomplished. They supported their team throughout a spectacular season. There may have been days on which these girls wish they could have blown off practice, but this season showed their determination, and hard work really paid off.

LITTLE PRINCESSES

BUMP SET SPIKE!!!

Although the Junior Varsity Volleyball team did play hard, they didn't win all their games. This season was much improved from last year. Their team went to a tournament this year at Ypsilanti High School, where they tried their hardest to win it all. Even though they played well they still didn't win.

On the court these players put their individual talents together as one to make a good team. Next year the J.V. team will lose many players to the Varsity Volleyball team, but they will still need the team unity to win.

Suzy Allen and Michelle Gerlofs wait to hear what Coach Karen Scott has to say.

Andrea Kuzich sets the ball while Suzy Allan and Jodie Cox waits to attack the ball and go for the kill.

This aggression on Jamie Raymond's face and good form she has will make the volleyball go to the setter.

FUTURE PRINCESSES SHINE THROUGH

by: Janice Murnighan

These females have turned many peoples' heads on Lincoln Volleyball. Before this year a lot of students never came to a volleyball game because of their poor record. Things have changed; there are more people coming to support the team. This year's players have won a few games, which is great compared to the past. It seems to be that the girls have worked very hard to get where they are today.

"We finally realized we have to work as a team no matter what. I guess it worked", Jennifer Scramstad stated. If you have gone to a game you would know that something is different from last year. Their record can prove it. Jaime Chandler commented, "We have had fun this year and worked really hard, and hopefully we will do even better next year."

The 1992-1993 Varsity Volleyball Team, for the first time, brought home a second place trophy from the Clinton tournament. Also, they each received a medal. This proves that the future princesses have shined through.

Kim Johnson spikes the ball over the net onto the other side, while Jean Keggeris is in ready position for hitter coverage.

The fans in the crowd, cheer on the volleyball team as they do well.

Jennifer Scramstad, Amy Kirby, Cassandra Richardson, Tiffani Arbogast, and Jennifer Russell get ready in a line to shake hands with their opponents after the match.

"Got it" said Linda Russell, as she gets in position to bump the ball, so the team can have a successful bump, set, spike.

Linda Russell goes for the tip over the net instead of a hard hit which should go over the opponents' block.

The Varsity Women's Basketball team finally broke a losing streak from 1989 thanks to the help of team determination and not to mention a new coach, Brian Bonds.

Even though their record didn't show it, the girls actually did play a good season.

Many of the teams they faced were good solid ball clubs, but they were definitely beatable, and the girls showed that to be true.

MAIDENS ON THE RUN

And they are off! The race has begun as Melissa Kulback and Barb Karenko speed away.

With a team so small the Women's Cross Country still had a lot of motivation. And even though they could not qualify for many meets (five runners are needed for a duel meet) dedication was always present.

"The season was full of personal success and it was a positive experience for everybody," said Coach Moran.

The low number of girls on the team was a disappointment for everybody, but the girls were close as team, always pulling each other along and cheering as they came across the finish line.

"I was impressed that the girls ran without complaining about winning a meet. They always ran for a personal best," said Moran.

Cross country requires a lot of self-discipline. The hard workouts and the long runs take a mind for motivation along with physical strengths to endure them.

"I recommend it for everyone; it shows you what the mind can accomplish when the body doesn't want to," said first year runner senior Lakeya Richardson.

Waiting sometimes seems like forever as you can tell from these runners' faces. But Lakeya is always ready!

Mr. Moran sits and thinks up some more good advice that he can give the girls.

THE LINCOLN EQUESTRIAN TEAM RIDES INTO BATTLE

Coaches Scott Nemth and Candice Youtsey present Joyce Mamp with a certificate for letting the team use her horse for practice.

The equestrian team stands together at their banquet. The team had a lot of fun this season, and they look forward to a lot more in the years to come.

This is the first equestrian team that Lincoln has had since 1985. Members of the team include freshmen David Mamp, Teri Oxender, and Lindsay Dietrich; sophomore Amy Youtsey, and junior Christina Waldo.

The coaches for the equestrian team were Scott Nemeth, and Candice Youtsey. Both enjoyed the season and are hoping they have more members on the team next year.

The riders were judged on how they presented their horses and how good the riders' forms were. Sophomore Amy Youtsey expressed great feelings about her teammates and how well they worked together.

David Mamp said, "They should be better next year because more people are supposed to be trying out." Christina Waldo said, "I learned a lot this season and I am looking forward to next season."

We sure are hoping for another good season from the equestrian team!

Freshman David Mamp shows that he is an expert rider.

Peasants of Pom

This was the first year for the Lincoln Pom-pon Squad. Although the squad was cancelled midway through their season, the members still enjoyed themselves. Riki Adams quoted, "we had fun, and it was a good experience." The group also functioned well as a team. They practiced routines, and made a few of their own. Members are hoping to rejoin the squad next season.

Senior Mike "Caveman" Smith escapes the clutches of Pinckney.

Freshman John Stowe fights for a takedown, but gets a penalty.

This years 1992-1993 wrestling team "was a good learning experience" says senior Phil Carter. The team overall had a 3-15 season with alot of freshman in all weight classes. Freshman Ryan Dillion states that " this year's wreslting season was a success to me ; I learned alot of new moves and tecniques which help me with the season." Freshman Regis Recciha says " I had alot of fun this year , met some really great people , and had a really good coach."

Mens Swimming

This year's swim team didn't have their best season, but they did have a very productive season. The team really didn't have just one standout on the team. Instead they were led by many veteran swimmers. Jody Harr, Dale Warren, or Scott Richardson were always sure to step forward in the sprints. Auston Gentz was the butterfly specialist of the team where he was always sure to get a first or second. Andy Harms and co-captain Brian Hinderer battled all year for the top backstroke spot. Brian was also the top 200 freestyler on the team. Steve Montgomery was the team's lone distance swimmer. Even though the team only had one diver, Jason Carlton was always there to get a first place. Also co-captain Nathan Leonard led the team in breaststroke and the individual medley.

There were many awards given out at this year's banquet. The Most Valuable swimmer award was presented to Auston Gentz. Most Improved went to Brian Hinderer and Dale Warren. The High Point Award went to Nathan Leonard.

The State Qualifiers were Jason Carlton in diving and Nathan Leonard in the 100 yd. breaststroke. Also during the year Jody Harr, Dale Warren, Brian Hinderer, and Nathan Leonard set a new 200 freestyle relay record.

With the loss of only three seniors next year's team should do much better.

GIRLS SWIMMING

The Lincoln girl swimmers began the year off with a tremendous fight. This year's captains were seniors Heather Curtis and Cassandra Richardson who kept the team's spirit up even through defeat. Heather Curtis says, "I will always treasure the close friendships I made through swimming. We were more than a team, we were a family." This year's team was always cheering for each other, even when the times were bad.

The girl's swim team didn't have a great winning record, but some individuals did make great strides this season. Senior, Cassandra Richardson, received the most points throughout the season. She also shared the most valuable swimmer award with sophomore Melissa Bush. Nikki Southerland was voted most improved during the season.

Melissa, Casandra, Nikki, and Erica Nielsen were close to making the state cuts for the 200 medley relay. Next year they will all be returning, except Cassandra, to make it the rest of the way.

VARSITY SOLDIERS SHOW THEIR CLASS ON THE BASEBALL FIELD.

This year's Varsity Baseball team set a record for wins under Coach Ron McCarty. This year's team was loaded with seniors. It had a total of 10. With only four underclassmen the team will be looking for youth next season. The team had a lot of fun and had joyous victories. The team shared a number of unforgettable moments. Senior pitcher Scott Walter said, "I will never forget hitting four batters in three innings against Dexter."

Ryan Hilobuk said, "I think everybody on the team had a lot of fun."

Kevin Lambert said, "Most of this year's success came from our bats. We hit the ball like crazy and our pitchers did their job."

Senior John Burnison said, "I think I improved my game a lot from last year."

And senior Nelson Bartrum said, "I didn't ever think I was going to get a hit this year but with four games left in the season I got my first hit."

Good luck to next year's team!

Junior Andy Woodside says, "Get up!" as he crosses the plate for another run.

Sophomore Dan Gillay makes a tough play look as easy as one, two, three.

Senior Kevin Lambert awaits the ball at third.

Senior Scott Walter stands alone on second after a double.

Senior Brad Sancho shows he has a very serious attitude.

Senior Ryan Hilobuk awaits the pitch dreaming about hitting a homerun.

Junior Soldiers give it their all on and off the field.

This junior varsity baseball team has a lot of returners this year and they hope their experience at that level will help them out. Mr. Sarkett is returning for his second season as head coach. One thing you could say about the players is that they all tried hard. All of the players are ready for next year. Freshman Ed Bartrum said, "We learned a lot from his coach and teammates". We are all proud of the J.V. team!

Freshman pitcher David Defour and third baseman Mike Moyer ask freshman Ed Bartrum what play is on.

Freshman Jared Perkins slides safely into third base. Coach Sarkett observes.

LITTLE MAIDENS FIGHT FOR THE TOP

The catcher Andrea Kuzich about to catch the ball as the umpire decides what call to make. Is it a strike or a ball?

by Janice Murnighan

This year's Junior Varsity softball team has done what was expected of them and even more. Many freshmen on the team have little or no experience, but that doesn't show in the team's record. They had seven returning players which also helped. These girls work very hard every time they're on or off the softball field. Next year the team will lose some players so the team will need to keeping working hard.

Jodi Cox waits on base for Sheila Witten to bring the ball in from the outfield.

Suzy Allen almost at the end of a pitch concentrates hard to throw strikes.

"Foul Ball", De-D. Evrard up to bat, bunts the ball high into the air.

SOFTBALL

Senior Amy Barbee takes a good step as she begins to pitch with a determined look on her face. She is one of the pitchers and also plays outfield.

With a good arm, Senior Tracy Witten is getting ready to throw the girl out at first base.

Up above, coaching at third base is Coach Mulka giving signs to his player that is up to bat.

Down below is senior Janice Murnighan in perfect form as she waits for the softball to come to her at third base.

FAIR MAIDENS PLAY HARD

The 1993 season for Varsity softball didn't start off to a good one, but no one ever gave up. Everyone on the team tried their hardest to field and throw the ball correctly and while up to bat get a good hit, even though there were many errors which made it harder for these girls to win. Everyone knows that if they had less errors they would have a better chance of winning more games.

There are only four returning players from last year's team and they only had a little experience playing against other varsity leagues. All the other players are only used to playing against the J.V. level. Even though there were many difficulties this team never give in. In each game the girls improved their performance.

The weather hasn't helped much; before the first game the players only had practiced outside on the field for only three days, which really put a damper on things. On the bright side the team was enthusiastic and always looking for fun. Tammy Mellinger, the first baseman said "There is still need for improvement, but we always try our hardest."

Senior Janice Murnighan also commented that "...this year's team worked hard and had a lot of fun that I will miss next year."

Mr. Mulka was the girls softball coach and a very dedicated one at that. He was always understanding. Next year's team will need a lot of hard work and concentration to be able to play hard.

Ye Women Foot Racers

"Whoop! There it went! C-Ya," says Freshman Justina Phillips.

Beauty comes with power and precision in this great runner.

Calm and casual is Kandy Styrk, as usual.

Cassie Richardson is always ahead of the competition.

Justina Phillips is in one of her many determined runs.

"Let's move it," says Ranita McGregor.

It's a bird! It's a plane! No. it's Justina Phillips as she clears the first hurdle with no problem.

Kelly Cooper and Barb Karenko shoot the breeze.

LOOK OUT! Kathy Taft can make the discuss fly like a UFO!

Donna Jones is on the run again.

A Night To Remember...

"I Will Remember You," was this year's prom theme, a song by Amy Grant. It was a chilly night, April 24th, and one not to be soon forgotten. As the seniors get ready to graduate and say good-bye there will be many tear-stained eyes and sad hearts. However, the future holds much promise of a new beginning down life's long path.

King Josh Schooley sportin' the crown, on the dance floor with his date (above). The queen, Holly Maltby, takes a whirl around floor with her escort (left).
